

MORNING WEATHER REPORT

Public Weather Forecast for the State of Grenada

Product ID: GMS-PWF-MORNING

Date Issued: Sunday 21 December 2025

Time Issued: 06:00 AM AST

Validity: Today and Tonight

Valid From: 06:00 AM AST Sunday 21 December 2025

SYNOPSIS

A weak Atlantic high-pressure ridge remains the dominant feature across the eastern Caribbean, maintaining generally fair weather conditions over Grenada. Moderate easterly trades continue to produce choppy marine conditions across regional waters.

PUBLIC FORECAST

Weather: Generally fair.

Details: Brief isolated showers are possible during the period.

Maximum Temperature: 31.0°C

Wind: East-northeast to east-southeast at 12 to 22 mph.

Sunrise: 5:48 AM Sunset: 6:23 PM

MARINE FORECAST

Sea State: Moderate to slightly rough.

Wave Heights: 6 to 8 ft.

Swell Direction: Northeasterly to easterly swell.

Low Tide: 10:00 AM High Tide: 4:00 PM

IMPACT-BASED INFORMATION

Marine Conditions

LIKELIHOOD

MINOR

IMPACT

MINOR

RESPONSE

BE AWARE

EXPECTED IMPACT

RECOMMENDED RESPONSE

- Choppy seas may affect fishermen, small sailboats, and other vulnerable small craft.
- Some marine-related activities may experience minor disruption.

- Operators of small vessels should remain aware of sea conditions, especially near high tide and in exposed waters.

Issued By:
Trisha Miller
Forecaster

Next Update: 6:00 PM AST

This forecast is issued by the Grenada Meteorological Service and is valid for the State of Grenada and its coastal waters.